Honor Code! United States Service Academy Preparatory & Leadership Camps

Shepherdstown, West Virginia: _____(student name), a student at _____(student school), has been selected to attend the 2009 _____(service academy attending) sponsored by Honor Code! United States Service Academy Preparatory and Leadership Camps. Honor Code! is a program designed to introduce talented and promising young adults, with an interest in attending a United States Service Academy, to the academy campus and its admission procedures.

Students enrolled will tour the service academy of their choice. Students can choose from the United States Air Force Academy, located in Colorado Springs, Colorado; the United States Naval Academy, located in Annapolis, Maryland or the United States Military Academy, located at West Point, New York.

Students will tour the service academy campus, facilities, conduct introductory physical fitness assessments, study leadership skills and will be introduced to the extensive processes for preparing, applying and gaining an appointment to a United States Service Academy. In addition, students may participate in a High Ropes, Leadership Reaction or Orienteering courses.

As part of the camp, students will also tour the special attractions located around the individual academy locations. For instance, students attending the U.S. Military Academy camp will tour New York City. The students attending the U.S. Naval Academy camp will visit Washington, D.C. monuments, and the students attending the U.S. Air Force Academy camp will visit the U.S. Olympic Training Center, see the Rocky Mountains, and more.

Honor Code! is the nation's premier provider of service academy preparatory camps. Its mission is to prepare tomorrows leaders, through leadership training and provocative educational experiences.
